

$5,000,000 FIRE IN BALTIMORE WORK OF GERMANS

Supplies and Munitions for U. S. Troops in France Were Burned—Fires Started in Five Places After Signals Were Given.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 31.—The full force of the department of justice was today thrown behind an investigation launched here into the fire that swept the water front, destroying two piers and a British steamship with an estimated loss of $5,000,000.

Federal agents are convinced that German agents are responsible. The fire broke out in five places simultaneously, a few seconds after several rockets were seen to go up at different points on the piers. Several men also were seen fleeing from the scene. Guards fired at them but as far as known none of them were hit.

The piers that were destroyed were loaded with supplies for General Pershing's army in France and the allies. Munitions made up a large part of the supplies.

Chief Gunner Brownley and two sailors from the British steamer "Kerry Range," which burned and sank, are said to be dead. Between twenty and twenty-five other members of the crew had not been accounted for up to noon today and it is feared they, too, may have been lost. Michael J. Hand, a clerk, was also missing.

Eighty shells stored on the vessel for use in an anti-submarine gun, exploded below decks, endangering the lives of the crew.

Piers Eight and Nine were completely destroyed. They represent a loss of $1,500,000. Their contents, mostly war materials awaiting shipment to the allies, were valued at $3,000,000. The steamer which was lost and its cargo were valued at $500,000.

The flames spread to Pier Ten, which was loaded with wheat, but heroic work by firemen saved that structure from destruction. It was damaged, but not seriously.

J. M. Davis, operating vice-president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, who visited the scene of the fire early today, stated that it was his opinion that the blaze was "without a doubt of incendiary origin."

"I believe the man or the men who started the blaze reached the pier in a boat," said Davis. "All of the stevedores and other employees have been under surveillance, and their records were searched before they were employed. I do not believe anyone could have approached from the land end. But I do believe the fire was started by an incendiary or by incendiaries."

The fire was still burning at several places early today but it was under control. The old immigration building, which adjoined Pier Eight, was destroyed.

The Baltimore and Ohio's great grain elevators are only a short distance away from the destroyed piers and the firemen's efforts were chiefly directed to keeping the blaze away from these. For a time it looked as though a stiff northwest wind would defeat their efforts, but the flames finally were brought under control.

The British steamer which was lost was the Kerry Range of the Johnston Line.

Positive evidence that the fire was of incendiary origin was given by the Baltimore and Ohio guards and firemen stationed at the piers. These men said that a few seconds before the flames broke out in five sections of the pier they saw what appeared to be rockets going up in half a dozen places on the pier. Muffled explosions followed and the flames came immediately.

The chief watchman of the pier stated that five minutes before the entire structure was in flames he had made a complete round of the pier and had found everything to be in usual shape.

While the police were pushing their investigation into the big fire, another blaze broke out in the Baltimore and Ohio shops at Riverside Park, about a mile from the scene of the first fire. This blaze was quickly extinguished without much damage.

HOME DEFENSE UNIT TO DO PATROL DUTY

The Saugerties Home Defense Unit will perform its first actual service this evening when it will patrol the streets of the village for the purpose of preserving order and preventing Halloween depredations. Members will wear badges. The sixty-eight members will be divided into three platoons, under command of Lieutenant Fellows, Sergeant Overbaugh and Lieutenant Lamb, and the village has been divided into three sections for the purpose of the police duty tonight.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 31.—British losses on the western front in October total $2,356. Of these 17,116 were reported as killed, 61,449 as wounded and 5,000 as missing.

HOME ORCHESTRA MAKING PROGRESS

The home orchestra is in active rehearsal in Symphony Hall in preparation for the benefit concert next Monday night, and is making excellent progress. While the selections chosen for its part in the program are not of the most serious character, rhythmic accuracy, correct intonation and careful dynamic effect are imperative. Under the reorganization of the band, many of the young players are making much improvement and there is a commendable show of talent.

It should be remembered that a considerable number of the original members who had become experienced by practice have enlisted in the service of their country. Conductor Muller says that 14 of these men are now in the army, waiting to go to the front. It is thus apparent that there was no lack of patriotism in the personnel of the Symphony Orchestra. In fact the importance of music in the army cannot be too strongly emphasized. This has been frequently urged by our highest military officers ever since the nation entered the war. Martial music inspires courage in the hearts of the rank and file. It also enlivens the hours of drill and the general routine of camp life.

Thus in view of these vacant desks confronting Mr. Muller, it becomes necessary to find other men. This in turn gave the younger musical element a chance for development. And by this means the educational feature and object of the society from the first gains a new impetus and force. For this reason, if no other, it should receive the generous support of the public, which is now promised, not only for this special occasion but for the regular symphonic study and work that is planned for the coming season.

As a matter of fact it should be said in this connection that all these men who have served in this orchestra from its inception learned their instruments and studied their parts under the direction of Mr. Muller in this orchestra. Meanwhile they have furnished our local band and orchestra music and earned their living in this way, being an important factor in the social life of the city and country.

The work of this orchestra in past years has been highly commended by eminent musicians who have participated in some of the symphonic concerts here as soloists, many of whom expressed surprise at the talent shown and the degree of attainment achieved by these amateur performers. The society itself is now under more substantial control than before and there is every reason to look for more executive ability, better business management, increased public interest and support and better results generally.

Not only is the slogan of the Newburgh Retail Liquor Dealers Association to be "Newburgh Wet in 1918" but it is to further read: "Newburgh Wet in 1918 and Forever." Such was the consensus of opinion at the meeting of the association held Monday in that city says the Newburgh News.

THE LOST CO. I IS HEARD FROM

Still Company I, But Now in the 105th U. S. A.—Expect to Be Sent to New York Early in December.

Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 28.—Just a few notes about Camp Wadsworth for those who may be interested. It is now accommodating over forty thousand troops, from all over the state of New York.

The Seventy-first has been joined with the Second N. Y. Inf. and is now called the 105th, U. S. Army. Our captain, Stephen A. DeLaney, has been transferred to E Co. and Lieut. Clarke to F Co. Mostly all other members of I Co. are still with the same company.

Our mess is very good. We have shower baths and electric lights also. The mess shacks are of wood construction and we sleep in tents. The climate is very mild, in fact, warm during the day, but nights are rather cool, having had heavy frosts and also ice. One morning we woke up and found a quarter of an inch of ice on a tub of water that had been left out over night.

We drill eight hours each day excepting one, which is set aside for trench digging. The drills consist mostly of physical exercises to harden us in. And the trench digging is not very hard either. About three squads or twenty-one men work at a time, that is in only one part, and they work about 15 minutes and then are relieved for the same amount of time.

Then we have the Y. M. C. A. here also. There's a piano and there is always some one here to play to drive away the gloom, if there happens to be any. Two or three times a week we have movies and band concerts at the chaplain's tent. Last Friday evening there was an entertainment at which boxing, singing, dancing, etc., took place.

Then again Spartanburg is not very distant and we can go to town to a movie show or vaudeville and the walk is also refreshing, although if we are tired we can ride in autos as they are always running to and from camp.

Company M of the 10th is next to our camp and it is very pleasing to know we can go and see and have a talk with some one of our home town.

We expect to be back to New York between the 5th and 12th of December. That means that we will be home for Christmas. Nevertheless, we are all very anxious to get "Over There" to do all we can for the good old U. S. A.

We also have bought Liberty Bonds. Our company alone has taken about $11,000 worth. You may print this in your next issue, and thanking you in advance, I am,

Sincerely yours,

ANDY WOLF.

ITALIAN SITUATION IS MORE HOPEFUL

By Telegram to The Freeman. Rome, Oct. 31.—General Cadorna is fast lining up his forces for a determined stand against the German and Austro-Hungarian armies along the Tagliamento river. Dispatches from the front this afternoon declared that the Italian commander is master of the situation now and that he is checking the enemy in effective fashion. Italian cavalry forces continue to harass and hold up advance detachments of the Germans and Austro-Hungarians.

Newspapers today point to the fact that the Germans have ceased citing the number of prisoners captured. It is declared that this shows that the Italians have recovered from their first panic and that the enemy is not making the progress that he did for the first day or two of the drive.

Great confidence is expressed by all of the papers in General Cadorna. The gravity of the situation is not minimized but the writers express great faith in the Italian leader's plan of campaign.

WILL ADDRESS KINGSTON MASONS

Hon. Alton B. Parker will deliver an address before Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. and A. M., of this city on Tuesday evening, November 12, when the lodge will raise a service flag in honor of the seventeen members now in active service.

Judge Parker is the oldest living past master of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, having served as such for two years, 1878 and 1879. He is also a past grand lodge officer, having served in the grand lodge as chief commissioner of appeals. This lodge is exceedingly fortunate in being able to have Judge Parker deliver the address on this occasion and a very large gathering is expected to extend a fraternal welcome to the distinguished craftsman.

No Cases in Court Today.

SOLDIERS' DUTIES AT REMOUNT STATION

Private Sills of Company M Writes Entertainingly of New Work Being Done by Men Separated From Company.

new duties at a place about two miles distant from the rest of the fellows.

Our duties are to feed about two thousand head of horses and mules every day. We have details picked for different work. We have the feeding detail that takes the hay and oats from the cars and puts it in the yards, or corrals as they are called. About two carloads of hay is used every day. The receiving detail brings horses from the cars into the camp and the forage detail goes to the freight house and handles freight, and not forgetting the kitchen detail, which is the worst of all. I know because I have been there before.

The weather is fine here. Just like summer all the while, but just the same there is no place like home, even though it is much cooler in old New York state. It is rumored around camp that we will be home to get our Christmas dinner, but as a matter of fact you cannot believe all you hear, but I know there would be many a happy soul if it is true. Well, it is almost time for dinner now, and I must come to a close, wishing to be remembered to all my friends in Kingston.

See, there goes mess whistle now, so bye-bye.

$2,154 IN FINES WERE COLLECTED

Since Recorder Lang Has Held Office—Of That Amount $2,114 Went to City and Balance to State and S. P. C. A.

During the past month Recorder Lang collected $46 in fines imposed for various misdemeanors and this amount he turned over to City Treasurer Everett for the general fund of the city this morning. Since January 1, 1915, to October 21, 1917 Recorder Lang has collected $2,154 in fines. Of this amount $2,114 went to the general fund of the city, $25 to the state treasurer, and $15 to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It might be stated that for the same period of time the city paid him as a salary for his work as recorder the sum of $2,833.32. It will be seen by this that the office of recorder under his administration has been nearly self-supporting.

CHARGE TWO LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Morris Deutsch, who conducts a drug store in the village of Walkkill, was indicted by the last grand jury for violating the liquor law, in selling liquor in a no-license town. A sealed indictment was handed up by the grand jury and a bench warrant was issued. Deutsch was taken in custody Tuesday and brought to the court house, where he gave bail in the sum of $1,000. Hyman Leventhal of this city going on his bond. Deutsch was represented by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinzier.

Charles Anderson, colored, was also arrested on a charge of violating the liquor law, in selling liquor without a license. He was indicted by the last grand jury which returned a sealed indictment against him. Anderson lived near the Terry brick yard on the East Kingston road and the evidence submitted to the grand jury, which resulted in his indictment, showed that he had been selling liquor at home. He is in jail.

FIRST ULSTER CO. SOLDIER WOUNDED

Edwards Gets a Bruised Knee From an Accidental Blow—Comfort Fits More Fully Appreciated Than Ever—Company L Has Pic.

Co. F, 303 Engrs., Camp Dix, N. J., Sunday, Oct. 28.—Today is one of the finest since we have been down here, warm and clear. As usual there was a very heavy fog this morning and whenever we got a heavy fog it is followed by a clear, warm day. Last night I came in about 9:45 and it was as clear as a bell. At 9:15 some men came over from the Y. M. C. A. and reported rain. In less than ten minutes it was raining like the dickens. We experienced one of the fiercest thunder storms I ever saw. Everything was flooded down here in the hollow but it rained so hard that it beat everything down and this morning it is pretty dry wherever the water could run off.

I was up at Co. L, 310th Inf., yesterday afternoon. Bill Agnew and I went up to see the football game at Regimental Headquarters, but we did not see it. We met a big auto truck and rode up that "bad" road you lithe over the morning you went to Co. L. It is completed now and as good as the best road in Ulster county. The truck driver gathered a load of soldiers on the way and was very obliging. When we got up to the 310th we walked over to headquarters only to find one of the teams could not get out and the game was called off. We went over to Co. L and saw the boys.

The Mail Service. I received a letter from Kingston which was mailed on October 12. That is mail service for you—15 days on the way. On the other hand I got the papers you sent me on Friday and your letters on Saturday.

The boys of Co. L have had pie already and appreciate very much the kindness of the people at home. I guess they don't get near as good food as a general rule up there as we do here.

I saw Ferd Schoonmaker and he just got a box of apples and treated. He is coming to see me this afternoon.

No More Snapshots.

Photographing without a permit has been stopped on the grounds, at least for the present. Ralph Glen, a member of the 310th, was taken to the guard house and a guard stopped him. The boys of the 310th had heard nothing of the order but it is posted on our bulletin board.

First Casualty to Ulster Co. Man.

Tom Edwards is at present on the sick list. Friday while drilling he got up suddenly and struck Edwards on the knee with the butt of his gun. Edwards has a pretty severe bruise and had to be treated at the hospital. He is limping around with a bandaged knee but was out drilling Saturday.

The Y. M. C. A. Work.

Last night Co. A. of the 303rd Engrs., was host at the "Y." They gave a 4-reel thriller and also showed the popular star, "Mr. Charles Chaplin," so you see we are not entirely out of civilization yet. The "Y" is about 3 minutes' walk from here and is just like the one at the 310th, only not so crowded. This week we are entertaining the Y. M. C. A. workers who have charge of the companies of the regiment getting acquainted. He eats mess with us and is making the boys feel more at home when they visit the "Y."

Robert Kerr, a nephew of Miss Kerr of The Freeman, who is with the Signal Corps, was in to see me yesterday while Agnew and I were out. I am sorry I did not see him and will look him up as soon as I have time.

Van Deusen's Double.

We have one fellow here who looks just like Van Deusen, glasses and all, and he usually smokes an old strong pipe and "Liberty" tobacco. They call him "Gertie." There is also another fellow who we call "Julia," and still another who had a run in with the cook about potatoes, and he is called "Spuds."

Snyder, who comes from Genesee, faints while having the manual of arms. There was a clatter in the rear rank and we saw Snyder lying on the ground. He was carried off the battle field and soon came to. He felt so good after a rest that he went to a dance at Burlington the same night.

Clout Scams Strange.

My blouse fits "like the paper on the wall." I will have to have the sleeves let down about 1/2 an inch and then it will be a perfect fit. It seems peculiar at first. They fit as tight and seem so short after our long, loose, civilian clothes. Until yesterday I had not had a coat on in four weeks. That is going some.

Well, I don't know much news. The work is being done today by people who were "caught" at inspection yesterday and I don't know of much to tell you.

The Breakfast Menu.

This morning there were so many gone on pass that only about 75 turned out for breakfast, and they gave us "sure enough flap jacks." I gave 5. Some had 9 and 10. I had coffee with sugar, pancakes and syrup, potatoes, bread and butter, oatmeal with milk and cookies for breakfast.

Well, I guess I will go out and get a game of football. Now is a chance for us second string players while the regulars are away to church. I K. F.

Y. M. C. A. NO HAVEN FOR SLACKERS

"I want to make it as emphatic as possible that Y. M. C. A. work in France is not to be made a haven for slackers," said Secretary H. L. Simmons of the National War Work Fund. This is in reply to the criticism being made in some quarters that men of military age are being appointed to "billet proof" work in France, and that husky young men are sent to man the war butts in the war zone when they ought to be fighting.

"It is true that vigorous young men are sent to the battle front to represent the Young Men's Christian Association," says Secretary Simmons, "and it is necessary, for the work they are required to do calls for just as much good red blood as though they shouldered rifles. But it is not true that young men of draft age have secured work as Y. M. C. A. secretaries, either on the war front or at home, in order to evade the draft law. As a matter of fact Y. M. C. A. secretaries are not exempt from the draft."

"No man of the draft age has been sent to the war zone, except where exempt under the law, or in some cases, where excused temporarily by the draft boards until their numbers are reached. All have been warned that they could not secure exemption by engaging in Y. M. C. A. work, and, as in point of fact, the association here and abroad has been seriously hampered by the army of secretaries who have enlisted or have been drafted."

"The National War Work Council has been careful to select as secretaries no men of military age except those who are exempt upon grounds, or who had been granted leave of absence by the exemption boards. Those who were granted such leave of absence have gone into service with the clear understanding that they are to be ready to report for duty when their numbers are called."

"Notwithstanding the great loss of secretaries which the association was called upon to bear because of the draft, the personnel bureau of the War Work Council has avoided giving any encouragement to men of military age to enter the association service."

When A. L. Grossett of Boston, one of the members of the War Work Council, saw General Sibert in one of the main camps of the American expeditionary forces in France last August, the general made the statement and authorized its quotation, that "the right kind of men can serve the country several times better in Y. M. C. A. work than by enlisting in the ranks."

Anyone who has seen the way in which the soldiers in the camps and cantonments here use the Y. M. C. A. facilities and the way in which they take to the secretaries, will seriously doubt whether there has been any criticism of the kind of secretaries sent to the front by the men whom they serve. Really, the secretaries are actually in more danger than the troops, much of the time. Here are some of the facts in the case.

The number of Y. M. C. A. secretaries from this country who have gone to the war zone is slightly less than 300. They have been men of varying ages, many of them much over 30, although vigorous health was a prime necessity. Some of them were of draft age, but these were made up of men rejected for defects of eyes or otherwise, or were men whose draft numbers would not be reached for three months or more, and such were engaged with the understanding that they were to be subject to call at a moment's notice. About 50 voluntarily left the Y. M. C. A. service to enlist without waiting to be called under the draft. Some of the other men were within the draft limits, but were ministers or theological students, and as such exempt. The inference that they were slackers is not justified therefore.

Move to Save Trolley Road.

As the result of an open meeting at the Catskill Y. M. C. A. Monday evening which was largely attended by residents of Catskill, Jefferson and Leeds, the Catskill Chamber of Commerce will make an attempt to prevent the scrapping of the trolley road which has been bought by a junk concern in New York city.

Flooded Tracks Delayed Trains.

The severe rain storm of Tuesday delayed U. & D. railroad trains as it caused the water to overflow the tracks between Bloomville and South Kortright. The train due in Kingston at 11:50 that morning did not pull in until 4:45 that afternoon. Snow followed the rain. The damage to the tracks was slight.

Those Comfort Kits.

Without trying to say something nice and being strictly honest, the comfort kits are the greatest "comfort" I have. I am the only one here with a kit and it is certainly popular. All I hear is let me take your scissors, or let me use a needle and thread. People can't realize how handy such a kit is. They say "You never miss the water 'till the well runs dry." No, you can't miss a needle and thread 'till you can't find one, and a needle and thread is worth a day's work off means a day's work on. FRED.

A FULL AND FRANK TALK WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Advance in Subscription Price on the Daily Freeman and Why We Are Compelled to Make It.

It has become necessary to make an increase in the subscription price of The Kingston Daily Freeman and we wish to take our readers into our confidence and tell them why. Most of the members of the Associated Dailies of this State have already raised their price, but The Freeman has waited until this time because it was fortunate enough to have a contract for paper at a comparatively low price which supplied our needs until about four months ago. Since that time we have had to buy as we could at fancy prices. Formerly we were pursued by drummers who coaxed for our trade, but now the position is reversed and we have to beg for an opportunity to buy. Nobody will quote us a price for our 1918 supply, which obviously means that the manufacturers think prices will soar higher. Along with this, type and metals used by us in large quantities for linotyping and stereotyping are held at previously unheard-of prices. The expense of gathering news and so forth has largely increased. In short, we expect our minimum increase of expense for the next year over this one will be ten thousand dollars, and probably considerably more.

Newspaper publishing is not a very profitable enterprise as business goes and it is clear that no paper in a town of this size can bear so great a loss. We have already raised advertising rates about as much as they will stand and our only other source of income is from subscriptions. We are well aware that our entire prospective loss cannot be made good, nor do we so desire, as we have no desire to shirk our share of the burdens of the day. So we are going to ask our subscribers for an additional two cents a week which will not distress them at all, but will in the aggregate ease our load. Beginning with November 1 the price of the Daily Freeman will be as follows:

One year$6.00
Six months$3.00
Three months$1.50
One week$.12

Single copies will cost two cents as heretofore. Out-of-town subscriptions will be paid invariably in advance.

There will be no cheapening in the quality of The Freeman. Our excellent telegraph news service will be continued, and our readers may always be sure of information regarding all important happenings up to the time of going to press daily. It is really hardly worth while to refer to this feature or to the thoroughness of our gathering of local news. These things speak for themselves and will continue so to speak.

The Freeman goes into this situation thus in detail for the reason that it feels that its patrons are entitled to the facts in the case. We have always endeavored to deal fairly, frankly and honestly with our subscribers, and we believe that our policy in these particulars has been largely responsible for whatever of popularity and success The Freeman has attained.

We hope that our subscribers—as have the subscribers of other papers—in view of the facts herein stated, will see the newspaper situation as it is, and will treat us as fairly as we have tried to treat them.

Of course, The Freeman will fulfill its contracts with subscribers who are paid in advance at the present price.

TRINITY CHURCH FIFTY YEARS OLD

Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street is fifty years old today. The cornerstone of the church was laid October 31, 1867. In 1897 the thirtieth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies. The church is one of the most important in the city today and its congregation has always exerted an influence for good that is felt by not only the lower section but throughout the entire city. The present pastor is the Rev. P. C. Weyant and under his pastorate the church is one of the leaders in the religious life of the city. The fifty-sixth annual convention of the Ulster County Sunday School Association is being held in the church the closing session being held this afternoon.

Improved Farm Methods.

In co-operating with the government, and assisting in the conservation and increasing of the supply of food for the nation's needs, no class of men have responded quicker or more loyally than the farmer. In many cases this has meant not only increasing the actual acreage, but a more intelligent method of handling the crops, and in many cases now and up to date machinery has replaced the old laborious methods. The Canfield Supply Company advises that they have had an unusually heavy demand for food and labor savers, such as stock cookers, cream separators, churns, wood saws, engines and other equipment of this character.

When Washing Lace.

The best way to wash lace is to squeeze it first in hot water, then in cold. To stiffen, dip it in milk. It should be pressed on a well-padded board, on the wrong side, with a fairly hot iron.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Joseph Moser of this city has been admitted to probate by Surrogate J. H. in the surrogate's court. The testator directs that $100 be expended to erect a monument over his grave. One half of the balance of the estate is given to his son, Joseph Moser, Jr., and the remaining one-half is given to the children of his deceased daughter, Mary Hetzel. The son is appointed executor. The will was executed July 3, 1912, and witnessed by Corporation Counsel William D. Brannier and City Judge William D. Brannier, Jr. The value of the estate is $2,300 personal property. Brannier & Canfield appeared for the executor.

Letters of administration on the estate of Clifton Hyde, of the town of Esopus, were issued to his sister, Eleanor Parsell. The value of the real estate is $200 and the personal property amounts to $125. Henry B. McKenzie appeared for the administratrix.

Letters of administration with the will annexed on the estate of Mary Isabelle Forsyth of this city were issued to DeWitt Rogers, in place of Petronella Bruyn Forsyth, the executrix named in the will, who died recently. The value of the estate administered is $27,000. The administrator appeared in person.

Letters of administration on the estate of Barent Polton of the town of Saugerties, were issued to his son, David V. Polton. The value of the estate is $650 personal property. Hyron L. Davis appeared for the administrator.

ALL SOILS SHOULD BE LOOSE

Lumpy State Permits Drying Out Too Quickly—Where Pulverized Crops Are Success.

Loose soils and lumpy soils are not one and the same condition, for where all soils should be loose, none should be lumpy. The latter state allows drying out so quickly that crops would fall wherever when soil is pulverized the same crop would be a marked success.

WEST PARK WOMAN DOING GOOD WORK

Madame Jeanne Warren, Native of France, Working For Soldiers' Comforts And Will Return to France in January.

Madame Jeanne Warren of West Park has been appointed deputy for Ulster county in the organization of the county for collecting funds with which to purchase necessary foodstuffs for the French people, particularly condensed milk and sugar, and also for the collection of French Comfort Packets for the United States and Allies.

Madame Warren, who is a native of France, has resided during part of each year for a number of years at West Park, her summer home there being just north of the home of John Burroughs. She has given up her New York home in order to use that money for the purpose of relief work and in January will go to France to aid in Red Cross and other work in which she has been active since the beginning of the war.

The plan adopted by the organization for which Madame Warren is collecting funds has been the collection of money and its use in purchasing condensed milk and sugar for French soldiers, women workers and children. The supplies have been purchased in wholesale quantities and shipped to France, where they have been distributed under the direction of the organization's officials there. Other foodstuffs are needed in France, of course, but sugar, which is unusually important for workers, and condensed milk, which is needed in hospitals and for children, have been the especial aim of the organization.

Trench packets are made up of little things which can be tucked away in a soldier's knapsack. Among the articles used in these packets are buttons, candles, caps, canteens, combs, drawers, envelopes, flags, foot-powder, gloves, gum, powder, handkerchiefs, harmonicas, key rings, knives, mirrors, mufflers, needles, note paper, paper wrapping, pencils, pipes, pocketbooks, postal cards, pouches, safety pins safety razors, outing shirts, under shirts, shoe strings, soap, socks, string, suspenders, sweaters, thread, toilet paper, toilet powder, tooth paste, tooth powder, towels, vaseline, wash cloths, etc.

The National Committee has been donated space in Lord & Taylor's store in New York city and up to this time has packed 257,323 articles, and has sent 10,775 packets to Italy, France, England and Africa. Anyone desiring further details of the work or wishing to assist in either branch of the campaign may communicate with Madame Jeanne Warren at West Park.

Men of New York, cast your Votes for Women!

THERE is a man's work for you to do on Election Day. It is to let your vote count for Woman Suffrage. Your vote is just as vital to the women of your State—to your wife or mother, or daughter or sister—as it is to you.

This is the year of all years!

LET no one say that a war year is not the time to extend suffrage to women. It is the time of all times! Since January seven states have given women the vote.

England has announced that it will gladly give its women votes. In advocating it, former Prime Minister Asquith said: "The war could not have been carried on without the women." Before the war, he opposed suffrage bitterly. "To give women no voice," says Prime Minister Lloyd George "would be an outrage."

France, through its Chamber of Deputies, has promised women the vote.

Italy has taken a step in the right direction.

Russia takes Woman Suffrage as a matter of course in planning the new government.

Canada, in the midst of war, and with the votes of her soldiers included, has adopted Woman Suffrage in the five great Provinces of Alberta, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Ontario.

The Allied Countries at War have either granted Woman Suffrage or are seriously considering it at this moment.

Here today, in your own state, 1,012,994 enrolled women are asking to be allowed to take the same full share of responsibility that has been given to the women of other states and countries. To give them what they ask is more than duty. It's your privilege—the highest exercise of civic right you can perform.

Let nothing keep you from the polls next Tuesday!
Your vote may win the day for Woman Suffrage!

KINGSTON, N. Y., OCT. 31, 1917.

The world is getting better acquainted with Germany every day. It has been known for some time that Russia's plight is largely due to the machinations of German agents who recruited Muscovite leaders with money and promises. Now the Providence Journal, which has exceptional facilities for collecting international news, informs us on the word of an Italian diplomat that the mysterious disaster now in progress in Northern Italy was made possible by the treachery of one or more high Italian officers, who, of course, had accepted bribes. Simultaneously with this disclosure comes the publication by Secretary Lansing of two more despatches sent by Count Luxburg of "spurious veracity" notoriety through the Swedish diplomatic channels, showing that it was the German plan to seize control of Brazil, where the people, said the Count, "under thin veneer are Indians." This contemptuous expression should be considered in connection with the Count's description of the Foreign Minister of Argentina as "a notorious ass," and von Papen's reference to the "little Yankees." To the German mind only sons of the Fatherland are "regular people," all others being savages or at least barbarians upon whom it is proper to bestow "kultur" by armed force. Day by day the evidence grows more convincing that it was the deliberate policy of Germany to conquer the whole world, including North and South America. It has even been stated that the amount of indemnity to be collected of the United States had been fixed by Berlin at $98,000,000. Evidently we are getting off cheaply on our present and prospective war taxes.

The German army is terrible enough, but it is less to be dreaded than its insidious attacks upon the morals of the nations it marks for its prey. It takes the heart out of a people to learn that its statesmen and officers have sold out to the enemy. Fortunately, the United States has escaped such a tribulation. We know from the published correspondence of von Bernstorff, intercepted by our secret service, that vast sums of German money were sent here to corrupt Congress, but suspicion has not touched any of our leading men, and the practical results of the expenditure have been negligible. Our LaFollettes and Stones are not believed to have been bribed. They are merely selfish and unpatriotic politicians who have misinterpreted public opinion and who will be ruined by acts which they expected to strengthen them. In fact, it is hard to prove that anybody has been bribed. Yet we have among us a number of agitators who are acting like traitors, whatever they may be in their hearts. We hear little of these serpents in Kingston, because the atmosphere here is unfavorable to them, but in New York we see a man running for Mayor on a platform of establishing a German peace, which means the enslavement of mankind. The fact is that Americans are too easy-going. We need not go to the length of the "kuklux" who punished a "pacifist" down South, but we can resist with vigor, as it is our duty to do, any disloyal utterance made in our presence.

Of all the rebukes received by La Follette, perhaps there is not one more stinging than that of a mother and former devoted admirer, who wrote him in an open letter (signed C. H. Cooke) from Mondovi, Wis.: "I have a son enlisted in this war, my neighbors have sons in this war, and the words you are speaking increase the hazard of their lives. Could you but see yourself, Senator, as you are seen by your former friends, could you but feel the shame and sense of tragedy they feel when they hear you, slackers and traitors acclaiming your their champion and spokesman. To hear your name whispered on street corners in dated breath by suspected enemies of the nation recalls the fate of the infamous Catalina of Rome and that of our own traitor, Benedict Arnold." That is the sort of reply all of us should make to disloyal talk.

It was a Republican Governor and a Republican Legislature that recognized the need of preparing for war that was certain to come and led the National government by more than a year in putting the military forces of the state on an efficient footing.

Promptness and intelligence have been the dominant characteristics of the present state administration and it is of the very first importance to the people of the state that this kind of government be continued. Every qualified voter who approves of the magnificent record that has been made by the Republican state administration should manifest his approval by voting and working to sustain it. A vote for Joel Brink is a vote for the continuance of this policy.

A former member, Paul Shirell, thus describes the Socialist party: "The most hypocritical organization in American politics is now known everywhere for just what it has always been in the process of becoming—a grim, hideous, blatant monster of sedition and free lust, representing in this tolerant country the bestial aims of the Prussian superman in many sided conspiracy against the internal peace of America." Can any "ism" survive the many and just skinlings that this one has received?

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, Oct. 31.—The large barn of Charles W. Myer located on his farm just west of the iron bridge crossing the reservoir stream at Blue Mountain was burned to the ground about 9:20 o'clock Monday night. All its contents including two horses, a number of cows and this season's crop of hay and buckwheat were destroyed. The loss is total as Mr. Myer had no insurance on the building or contents. How the fire originated is a mystery.

Mackey, deceased, was held at her home last Thursday, Oct. 25th at 2 p. m. The text being, "I Shall Be Satisfied When I Awake in His Likeness." The four sons were pall bearers. The three daughters are married and one sister, Mrs. Morrill resides in Marlborough. Mr. Briscoe of Milton was undertaker and the interment made in the Highland cemetery.

Two trees, one on the farm of H. V. Muecke and one near the residence of S. B. Wygant have blown down. G. G. Fowler is having his house painted by Marlborough painters. Hundreds of barrels have been delivered here from the barrel factories and New Paltz. Some of the farmers here have been so busy that they forgot that six days belong to them and one to the Lord.

Hallowe'en is not so troublesome in this neighborhood to the inhabitants, because there is less of the mischievous to take part in the annual sport of the young and wild. This week the rain will nearly all be in the market. Patriotism seems to be all over in true and tried America.

PICKLING TIME.

For those who like a few dill pickles the following recipe will be useful:

Put the pickles out for the table, or eat, into a two-quart jar; more will be packed if cut for the table. Add a tablespoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, and a quart of vinegar. All the jar with cold water, with a small bunch of dill; seal and put away for the winter use.

Sweet Red Pepper Pickle.—Grind to a pulp two dozen sweet red peppers, one dozen sweet onions; put on to cook in a quart of vinegar for 15 minutes; then add two cups of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of salt and a little celery seed. Boil slowly one hour. This is especially good for a sandwich filling.

Tonato Marmalade.—Peel and slice four quarts of ripe tomatoes, add four pounds of granulated sugar, six large lemons and a cupful of raisins. Put in a kettle in layers and cook one hour, or until quite thick. Cover jars or glasses with paraffin.

Apple Chutney.—Cook two cupfuls of mild vinegar with one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of mixed spices in a bag, a teaspoonful of salt, a small piece of ginger root and the same amount of sweet red pepper. Boil this five minutes, then strain it over six large apples cut in slices and one cupful of raisins. Onion and corned beef seed are often added. Cook until the apples are soft, then pack in jars and keep well covered.

Pepper Hash.—Chop fine one large head of cabbage and eight sweet red peppers, having removed the seeds from four of the peppers. Mix with a cupful of salt and let stand over night. Next morning drain well, add a quarter of a cupful of white mustard seed, two cupfuls of sugar and a tablespoonful of celery seed. Cover with vinegar and add one extra quart. Put in jars and seal.

Dill Pickles.—Wash and place in a two-quart jar whole and quartered cucumbers, add a tablespoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar a half cupful of vinegar, a bunch of dill, and fill the jar with cold water. Seal and put away for use later.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK DISCUSSED

Annual Convention of the Ulster County Sunday School Association at Trinity Church—Detailed Account of the Session Tuesday Afternoon.

For almost an hour Tuesday evening those persons who attended the evening session of the annual convention of the Ulster County Sunday School Association, held at Trinity church, were transported to Babylonia, and in many strolled through the many places of interest through that historical country.

The lecture on Babylonia was delivered by the Rev. Putnam Cady, and was illustrated with a large number of lantern slides. Dr. Cady has an enviable reputation as a lecturer and his efforts of Tuesday evening were no exception to his usual pleasing lectures.

Because of Dr. Cady's travels in the land which he described he was well qualified to describe the Babylonian country. The lantern slides were very clear and every person joined heartily in the singing.

The evening session opened with a song service, led by the Rev. George H. Scofield, of Highland. This was an enjoyable feature. A number of the old and popular Methodist hymns were sung and every person joined heartily in the singing.

The School of Methods.

Following Dr. Cady's lecture, a school of methods was organized with the following topics and leaders:

Elementary—Miss Maye Osterhout, "Efficient Christians." Miss Lulu E. Clarke, "Worth Whiles in Elementary Work."

Secondary and Temperance—Mrs. Alice Crispell, "The Task," the Rev. Joseph Appleby, "Temperance." Adult and Home Department—A. L. Adderton, "Mrs. Edgar Ellsworth," "The Visitor at Work."

Administration—Rev. T. F. Bayles, "Unifying the Organization." A. L. Adderton.

Dr. Cady spoke in part as follows:

The Bible has become a new and living book to us by reason of recent discoveries in Bible lands. This statement may be illustrated by a trip to Babylonia. Exploring the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates today, we shall see many unsightly mounds on dreary plains. Yet the Bible tells us that here once stood mighty cities representing a civilization of high order. Until a few years ago it was supposed by many that these assertions were highly colored. Now we know that "half the story was not told." The explorer's spade has dug up the ruins of these cities and discovered treasures of information almost beyond belief.

The Babylonians were great historians and kept accurate records on both clay tablets and monuments of stone. These records give us confirmations of the Bible statements and supplement references to many events.

It seems like a story from the "Arabian Nights" to be told that this brick, made by the Nebuchadnezzar who captured Jerusalem and destroyed the temple of Solomon, but thousands of such bricks are found. Inscriptions of Shalmaneser II who first came into contact with Israel record thirty-one campaigns to the Mediterranean. Sennacherib, who invaded Judah and threatened Jerusalem. The Bible story is confirmed by his own ink which says that he "shut Hezekiah up like a bird in a cage." The every banquet hall in which Belshazzar held his feast as the handwriting appeared on the wall is now open for inspection. Records by Cyrus the conqueror give an account of his policies.

By reason of these discoveries we can go back into a past so remote that "we are lost in the wilderness of years." I hold in my hand a tablet that was inscribed two hundred years before Abraham was born. It belonged to a king who ruled in Erech, a city mentioned in the tenth verse of the tenth chapter of Genesis.

Illustrating these tablets by means of lantern slides made from actual photographs, the speaker went on to show pictures of the land and to indicate its possible future under a good government. The delta between these two rivers is composed of the richest soil in the world, surpassing the Nile valley. There are fifteen million acres of waste land which, if reclaimed by irrigation, would produce wheat, oats, cotton, barley, rice, beans and dates in abundance. It is the real home of the camel, Arabian horse, big tailed sheep and long haired goats. A preliminary survey has shown modern engineers that the irrigating system used by the ancients cannot be improved by modern methods. Before the present war broke out, work of clearing out the old canals had been commenced. This work will be resumed and the now desolate plains will once again "blossom as the rose."

Tuesday Afternoon's Session.

The session Tuesday afternoon at the church opened with an inspiring song service, under the leadership of the Rev. George H. Scofield of Highland.

"My Lord and I." "Sunshine in the Soul." "My Lord and I" and other favorite hymns were sung with a spirit and with so much feeling that the Rev. Mr. Scofield commended the singers.

Rev. Mr. Scofield proved to be a good leader. Sometimes he would have the ladies sing one verse of a hymn, and then the gentlemen sing another verse and then every person join in the refrain.

The Scripture Lesson.

Rev. Mr. Scofield read a chapter from Mark, and then taking the Scripture quoted for a basis he made a brief but eloquent address upon "Service."

"Serving is the expression of love," said the Rev. Mr. Scofield, "and to get the full measure of love we must concentrate our efforts in the right kind of service."

"We are gathered here in the interests of the Sunday school and in no other work do we get the many opportunities that we do in Sunday school work. We want to serve the young people in our Sunday schools and to give them the kind of teaching that will help them to live as God would have them live."

Asks Divine Blessing.

Rev. Mr. Scofield made an eloquent prayer. He asked God's blessing for our country, for our army and navy, and our boys who are across the seas. He prayed that God would help and guide the allies.

Address of Welcome.

The Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of Trinity Church, made the address of welcome and he made the delegates feel that they were more than welcome in Kingston; not only by the members of Trinity Church, but by the members of the other churches here, and by all of the citizens of this city.

"I do not want you to feel that I am just making a formal address of welcome," said the Rev. Mr. Weyant. "We wanted you to come here, and you wanted to come because you feel a real response to our desire to have you here; a response that is from mind to mind and heart to heart."

"You will find the people of Trinity eager to entertain you and welcome you to their homes as their guests, and you will also find that the people of the other churches are glad to have you with us."

"We want you to feel as if you are at home. We have a hospitable city here, and if you have time, look the city over. Go into the stores, meet our people, and you will find that Kingston is a mighty fine city."

"We have a city that if it does not outrank other ones, it comes very close to outranking any city that you have been in."

Value of the Sunday School.

The Rev. Mr. Weyant then spoke of the value of Sunday school work. "The boy or girl in the Sunday school becomes the man or woman in the church," said the Rev. Mr. Weyant. "After this war is over and the nations sound the note of peace great things along the line of religion are going to happen. We cannot over emphasize the value of Sunday school work and how much bearing it is going to have on the future."

Rev. Mr. Ellis Speaks.

The Rev. C. G. Ellis, Ph.D., president of the Ulster County Sunday School Association, made the response to the address of welcome.

After expressing his appreciation for the kind welcome extended by the Rev. Mr. Weyant, the Rev. Mr. Ellis made an inspiring address upon "Teaching." He reviewed the events of the great war and from these events drew some significant lessons relative to teaching.

"The English people have taken their hardships with a smile," said the Rev. Mr. Ellis. "Bombs have dropped from the sky, spreading death and injury right and left ships have gone down, taking human souls to a watery grave; yet these hardships and many others have not broken the spirit of the English. They are still smiling through it all, and fighting. Why? It's the results of their teaching."

"Germany has violated every international law. She has thought of treaties only as scraps of paper to be torn into shreds at will. She has waged her relentless submarine carnage of death. She has used all sorts of ways and means to buy people. Why? The result of the teaching of the German people; the kind of teaching that leads them to believe that the Kaiser is supreme and that the Germans are supermen."

"Missionaries have gone into China and they have found that the Chinese people were looking backwards; they were worshipping their ancestors. In other countries men were looking for heads and a man was judged according to the number of victims that fell prey to his head hunting mania. Again, I ask why, and again the same answer—the result of teaching."

The Right Teaching.

"Our nation will be as we are taught," said the Rev. Mr. Ellis, "and our morality will be as we are taught. The future of our country depends upon the kind of teaching in our Sunday schools and in our pulpits."

Speaks Upon "The Objective."

The Rev. T. F. Bayles, of Walden, the next speaker, gave an interesting address upon "The Objective." He divided his address under three heads, as follows: What is the objective? When can we reach it? How can we reach it?

The objective is to make Christian character. No person can claim a Christian character until he has reached the conviction that he is the agent of God to carry on the purposes of God's work in the world.

No Christian can be self centered. He must have the welfare of his fellow men at heart and he must show by the life that he is leading that he is not self centered and he must show by his life what Christianity really means.

Regarding the question as to when the objective can be reached, the Rev. Mr. Bayles said that a definite time must be set. Any time is no time at all. There must be a definite time set to reach a definite goal.

The goal and objective can only be reached by the studying of and applying of the best method of Sunday school work. Education is the basis of all of the worth while things in life. This is just as true in Sunday school work.

Sunday school is important. It molds the character of the children and the best and most modern methods should be employed. It is well for every Sunday school to maintain a reference library with at least a dozen books pertaining to modern and effective methods in Sunday school work.

Mr. Adderton Speaks.

A. L. Adderton, of Albany, was the next speaker, and "How Schools Grow" was his topic. His address was along practical lines and he gave a number of valuable suggestions for Sunday school work.

The following were some of the suggestions made by Mr. Adderton: Modern and effective methods looking towards efficiency should be studied and worked out in Sunday school work.

The superintendent of the Sunday school must have a definite purpose to work out and a definite goal to reach.

The success of the Sunday school depends to a large extent upon the personnel of the teaching staff. Efficiency should be the slogan. Inefficient teachers should be eliminated and replaced by teachers who are better fitted for teaching the pupils. There should be no personal or partisan feeling in this matter; all should work for the welfare of the Sunday school.

The Sunday school room should be made as modern and attractive as possible. The importance of this factor is usually overlooked. Large sums of money are spent on church auditoriums and very often the Sunday school room is sadly neglected along these lines.

The Sunday school equipment, including blackboards, maps, etc., should be thoroughly up to date.

The spirit of reverence should be instilled into the pupils.

The character of the hymns should be looked after carefully and the pupils taught the good old hymns that are sung at the regular church services.

The records of the Sunday school should be kept in a systematic manner.

Prayer is the essential factor and nothing can be accomplished without it. The prayer must be earnest and sincere.

An Open Discussion.

Following the address of Mr. Adderton an open discussion of Sunday school work was held and Mr. Adderton answered many questions relative to some of his suggestions.

The Stars and Stripes.

The pulpit was decorated with an American flag and on each side of the pulpit was extended a large American flag.

STEINWAY REPRESENTATIVE FOR KINGSTON AND ULSTER COUNTY

FALLACIES OF SUFFRAGE CLAIMS

The Rev. Peter Lange Analyzes Some of the "Arguments" of Suffrage Advocates and Shows Their Absurdity.

The following letter from Father Lange, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, will be read with interest and profit by everybody:

Editor Kingston Freeman:

According to a recent editorial in the Kingston Leader it appears that there is somewhere in Ulster county a no doubt very admirable lady who is common with all others of her sex in almost all the big states of the union has no right to vote. In the opinion of the writer of the editorial this is a glaring injustice on the following grounds:

1.—The lady has a great estate.
2.—The lady pays her taxes regularly.
3.—The lady is a person of education, of rare business capacity and executive ability.

4.—The lady is by birth and culture fitted to take her place in the inner strata of society.

Now, as anyone familiar with the most elementary foundations of political science knows, not a single one of these "reasons" can be used as a criterion as to whom should be given the vote.

1.—To let the possession of property be the deciding criterion for suffrage has been tried almost all over the world. Everywhere it has proven itself to be the greatest obstacle in the way of true democracy. No one who has any desire to be regarded as serious by the American people would dream of proposing that only property owners should vote. So the fact that the lady has property is entirely irrelevant.

2.—Exactly the same can be said in regard to making the paying of taxes the criterion. The return for taxes paid is not the vote but the protection given to everybody by society and the use of public property, roads, schools, etc., given to everybody and paid for with the taxes. A very great number of voters pay no taxes and a great number of male taxpayers, minors, aliens, etc., have no vote. So the fact that the lady pays taxes is entirely irrelevant.

3.—To make education the criterion for suffrage looks at first sight very enticing. It has been tried, however, and found wanting. They had it in Belgium in connection with the system of vote plurality. The man with a high school education had one more vote than the man who did not have it. The man with a college degree had still one more vote, and so forth. The system was found to work entirely in the interest of reaction and was more than anything else the cause of the rapid growth of socialism in Belgium. Furthermore, a man's education is no criterion as to his desirability as a voter, as quite recently was proved anew by two college professors in New York.

4.—The fourth reason is, of course, nothing but empty oratory. No sane American could seriously think of using a person's "birth" or "strata of society" as a criterion for suffrage. It must be supposed, however, that these "reasons" are not given as real arguments for giving the vote to the lady in question. They are evident given in order to make the conclusion between her and certain foreign-born Americans working on her estate as glaring as possible. It seems that a certain number of these men can hardly speak English or understand it. (This statement, if true, is by the way a very serious reflection on the court that admitted them to citizenship.)

The argumentation, if there is any, seems then to be this: On the one side regard this lady with all her qualifications, and remember she can not vote. On the other side regard these poor, ignorant foreigners, and remember they can vote, and then draw your conclusion. It is impossible that it could be otherwise than that the vote would have to be given to the lady.

The only trouble is that you can only make logical conclusions from logical premises and there is not a shadow of a logical premise in the whole proposition. The whole thing is an emotional appeal not to men's heads but to their hearts, not to their power of reasoning but to their sentimental feelings.

But even if we would admit it as an argument it is very easy to come to the absolutely opposite conclusion.

The fact that these ignorant foreigners can vote can never be an argument for giving the vote to any woman, educated or uneducated, but it can be and should be a very powerful argument against giving the vote to any more of their kind. This country is suffering not from having too few voters, but from foolishly having given the right to vote to a multitude of foreigners who never should have had it.

If all those who now are wasting their time on working for women's suffrage are really desirous of doing something for the benefit of better government let them use their energy in procuring a law making a residence of ten, or still better, fifteen years and the passing of a real examination as to intellectual and moral qualifications an absolute condition for the granting of citizenship.

Not only such a new law must we have before we can think of giving the vote to women, but we must also, if the great Eastern states do not wish to commit suicide, have an amendment to the already existing laws.

Under present conditions the wife of an alien becomes automatically an American citizen as soon as citizenship is granted to her husband.

To every foreign-born citizen who only can speak and understand very little English there are actually hundreds of wives who do not speak or understand one word of English and who after years of residence in this country know no more about American conditions or American problems than they did the day they came.

Can any sane person even for a moment dream of giving the vote to these women—thousands of them in New York city alone?

Before any of the Eastern States can seriously discuss the question of women's suffrage it must be made a law that citizenship is a personal prerogative that can only be given to such individuals, men or women, who personally and individually can fulfill certain definite conditions.

So to conclude with the lady we started with. If there are on her estate can married foreigners who can speak and understand very little English it is safe to say that these wives speak it and understand it still less.

Now, would it be a benefit or a detriment to Ulster county to give the vote to one woman who might be intelligently fit for it when this in the same time would give the vote to ten women who are completely unfit for it? Can there be any doubt as to the answer?

Comfort and Economy

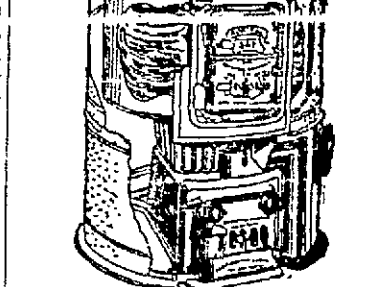

A Square Pot Furnace means the comfort of evenly heated, well ventilated rooms—the economy of less coal consumption and less labor. The square fire pot increases the radiating surface 15%. The simplicity of construction and special devices make Square Pot Furnaces easy to operate.

In no other furnace will you find the square fire pot, and with no other furnace can you benefit from the many advantages this superior principle of construction affords.

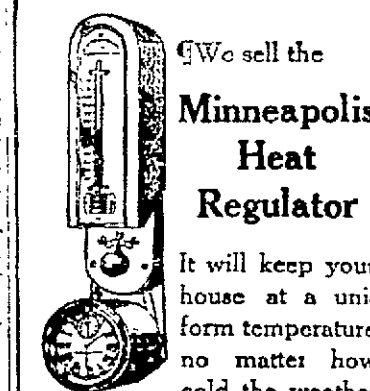

Ask your dealer about Square Pot Furnaces and Square Pot Steam and Hot Water Boilers. He will give you expert advice and much interesting information.

Tigers Abound in India.

Tigers abound in India to this day. In some parts of that land the natives, especially the Hindoos, regard the tiger with such superstitions awe that they will not kill one. Some think it is haunted by a spirit which makes it immortal.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER saves eggs in baking

In many recipes only half as many eggs are required, in some none at all, if an additional quantity of Cleveland's Baking Powder is used, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted. Try the following recipes which also conserve white flour as urged by the government.

Corn Meal Griddle Cakes

1 1/2 cups corn meal
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon molasses
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons Cleveland's Baking Powder

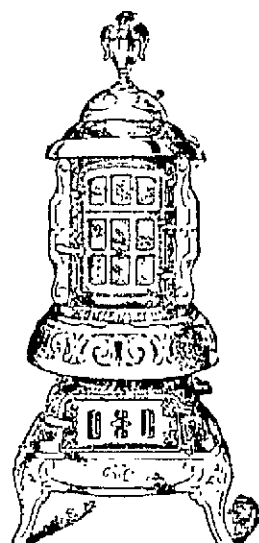

NO EGGS
Soak corn meal in bowl with boiling water; add milk, molasses and molasses, add flour, salt and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Bake on hot greased griddle until brown. (The Old Method called for 2 eggs)

Eggless, Milkless, Butterless Cake

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup water
1 cup seeded raisins
2 ounces citron, cut fine
1/2 cup shortening
5 teaspoons Cleveland's Baking Powder
Boil sugar, water, fruit, shortening, salt and spices together in saucepan, 3 minutes. When cool, add flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. Mix well; bake in loaf pan in moderate oven about 45 minutes. (The Old Method [Fruit Cake] called for 2 eggs)

Send for our new booklet "Recipes Showing How Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder Saves Eggs." Mailed free on request. Address Dept. H, 135 William Street, New York

A paper carried over from the previous meeting and which held the close attention of all was entitled, "Quiz on Latin American Names," giving the various national origins of those names and presented by Miss Fuller. The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Deudney. The year's program for this club is as follows:

Lowell Club. The Lowell Club members were the guests of Mrs. N. F. Fessenden at her home on Washington avenue on Tuesday afternoon.
